"A funny diary entry"

Thursday 4th March 2021

I am learning to write and illustrate a funny diary entry

I have a new kitten called Molly. She loves to play and hunt. One day I woke up and walked into the living room. There was Molly crouching like a lion, she had spotted her prey. Then out of nowhere she jumped. "OUCH!" I cried. She hadn't spotted her prey, she had spotted my toes! Her claws CLUNG ON and I darted across the room. I told her "NO!" She ignored me and I JUST dodged the pounce. I ran for the door but Molly was chasing after me. I LEAPED for the door handle. It was a close call but I managed to open and shut the door so I waited in the kitchen until my mum woke up.
