"A funny diary entry"

Thursday 4th March 2021

I am learning to write and illustrate a funny diary entry

4th March 2021. It was a dry but cold day. I was FREEZING!

Learning to ride a bike is hard work! I only got to the front door when my nan, "The Boss", as she calls herself, called me back and made me put on not one, but TWO hoodies. I thought it was a bit excessive, but I kept warm and didn't need a coat.

Riding around the block (TWICE), I bumped into a nice lady and her niece. Suppose that was nicer than BUMPING into the TREE, which made me graze my knee. CRASH! I fell right over. I WON'T be doing that again!

On the plus side, I learnt to ride my bike!
